

From the INTRODUCTORY. There has been a revolutionary action going on in my mind to which, twenty years ago, I said Stop! It stopped not, but the end is now. If a demonstrator of anatomy will give a natural, rational and practical solution of the reason why nerves uniformly accompany the arteries and not so uniformly the veins in, the human system, which they have failed to do up to time of publication, I think I can prove, on a rational and natural basis, that the heart does not circulate the blood, but that the positive and negative electricities, generated from the air in the lungs and from them conveyed to the brain, thence distributed through the system to supply the natural demands of the body, circulate the blood and are the physical life and the motive power of the body, acting in harmony with the spirit life; this may be likened unto the electricity, positive and negative, generated by steam, by water power or other known generative power of electricity, the principles of which are attraction and repulsion, push and pull, motive force or power. Everything is kept in motion by it as long as the power lasts or until the machinery wears out. So with the body. As long as you take air into the lungs, the machinery of the body will be kept in motion, until the machinery is worn out or destroyed by disease or outside influences, etc. Spinal meningitis, congestions and inflammations of the human system can be explained and removed on scientific principles. Will wood and water run an engine without^ steam? Is not steam the motive power of the engine? Can you force water through a pump without a motive power? Will electric cars run without a motive power? Are not horses the motive power of our street cars? Can you run or keep in motion any kind of machinery without a motive power of some kind? Is not the world kept in motion by a motive power? Are not the lords of creation kept in motion by a motive power? etc. etc. And the man died for the want of air and the heart failed for the want of motive power. The engine failed for the want of steam and the pump failed to deliver water for want of a motive power, and every variety of machinery died for the want of a motive power, and the world may collapse from the same cause. Is not the horse-shoe magnet in equilibrium, electrically considered, and every molecule of the magnet, a perfect magnet, electrically considered? And does not the same principle hold good in all animate and inanimate matter? Is not the electro-magnetic principle in stone the life and cohesive principle of the inanimate substance? And would not the destruction of this principle in nature destroy everything animate and inanimate, in part or whole, in proportion to the destruction of the substance or being? And will not the horse-shoe magnet become deranged, or the electro-magnetic equilibrium in a great measure be destroyed, by dealing the magnet a heavy blow with, a sledge hammer, or otherwise? And would not a person resort to electricity to restore the magnet to its original equilibrium, as the most efficient agent? And if not, why not? When a person is in perfect health, are not the electrical conditions, positive and negative, in equilibrium or harmony in every organ or part of the body, like the magnet in equilibrium, electrically considered? And would not a heavy blow upon the persons head derange the polar and electrical equilibrium of all organs and parts of the body, through the nerves (motor and sentient), in proportion to the extent of the injury received by the blow, pr otherwise? - And would not electricity, properly and scientifically administered, restore harmony and an equilibrium in the system as in the magnet? And why not? Can animate matter or a person live without electricities, positive and negative, or north and south polarities?....
