

Abigail Tyler is pleased to present her new picture book for kids. This easy reading book for children contains family talking points about stealing. This thought-provoking picture book is written for children ages 4 to 10. It contains a variety of short stories which parents can use as discussion points. It is illustrated with great graphic images. It offers interesting facts, in simple language. Although the material appropriate for these ages, younger children will need help. This book is most useful when parent and child share it together. Students will encounter new words and concepts. They'll read about why people steal and the consequences of stealing. They'll also learn how shoplifting hurts everyone. Children will identify with personal stories in the book. Parents can use these stories to clarify the issues involved in stealing. Most of the book's images are colored drawings and photographs. These are most effective when read on a Kindle Fire, or the Kindle Application on a tablet device, or PC. They can be viewed clearly on black and white readers. Only the color dimension is lacking. Children will also find answers to kid-style questions. - Who am I hurting? I took it from a store, not a person. - Why is everyone mad at me? All I did was borrow it! Teachers and home schooling parents will find this book a wonderful addition to their nonfiction libraries. Ethical ideas and solutions are presented for the young reader. Great illustrations bring the text to life.
