

There is life after heart surgery! Your life never be the same as it was before, but you can adjust to a new normal with time. I suffered an aortic dissection and miraculously lived to declare the goodness of God. This book is an account of trials and tribulations during my surgery and recovery. It was written to help anyone who is struggling in life, especially heart patients. I do not have a Ph. D., nor am I a medical doctor. However, I did live through a near fatal heart condition and during the months afterwards gained much insight along the road to recovery.

Robert John Roberts was born, bred, and fed in Colquitt, Georgia. He resides there with his wife Miranda and his son John Anthony Hines Roberts. He achieved the coveted rank of Eagle Scout, and earned triple palms, in the Boy Scouts of America. John graduated from Southwest Georgia Academy. He earned his Associate of the Arts in English from Bainbridge College. He went on to obtain his Bachelor of Science degree in English with minors in Sociology and Humanities from Troy State University Dothan. John is an avid outdoorsman. One of his favorite outdoor activities is hunting artifacts, where he meditates and escapes the cares of the world in the silence of an open field. He also enjoys flying with his father, who is a private pilot, in his spare time. John is a member of Iron City Baptist Church, where he is a deacon.
